

Washington State Declaration of Write-in Candidacy

how to file as a write-in candidate for elective office

qualifications

You may file as a write-in candidate if you are eligible to assume office, are not already on the ballot (except for precinct committee officer), and have not filed for the same office at the preceding primary.

A declaration of write-in candidacy may not be filed for precinct committee officer.

when to file

Declarations of write-in candidacy must be received no later than 18 days prior to the primary or general election.

where to file

- File with the Office of the Secretary of State if the office sought is federal, statewide or is a legislative, court of appeals, or superior court office that includes more than one county.

- File with the County Elections Office for all other offices.

cost to file

The filing fee is nonrefundable even in the event of withdrawal.

Filing fees or filing fee petitions must accompany the declaration of write-in candidacy at the time of filing.

The filing fee, described on the declaration of write-in candidacy form, is based on the salary in effect at the time of filing.

Candidates without sufficient assets or income to pay the filing fee may instead submit a filing fee petition that contains the valid signatures of registered voters equal to the dollar amount of the filing fee.

Once filed, a declaration of write-in candidacy may not be altered.

qualifying for ballot

Names of write-in candidates will not appear on the ballot or in any voters' pamphlet.

As a declared write-in candidate any recognizable variation of your name will be counted.

If a write-in candidate qualifies for the general election by gathering a sufficient number of votes in the primary, the candidate's name will be printed on the general election ballot and in voters' pamphlets.

results

Write-in votes are not tabulated for individual write-in candidates unless enough write-in votes are cast to potentially change the outcome of the race.

Public Disclosure and Campaign Finance Reports

Candidates for most offices will need to submit an initial Campaign Finance Report within two weeks of declaring publicly as a candidate.

Reporting requirements are determined by the type of office, the anticipated campaign revenues and number of registered voters in the jurisdiction of candidacy.

The voter registration requirements are based on the number of registered voters as of the last general election.

how to complete the form

1. office

Print the jurisdiction, the office name and any position or district number defining the office for which you are a write-in candidate.

The responsibility for filing for the correct office is yours.

2. personal information

Your name and address must match your voter registration.

Update your voter information prior to submitting a declaration of write-in candidacy.

You are responsible for ensuring that you meet all qualifications of the office.

3. ballot information

Print your name exactly as you wish it to appear on a ballot in the event that you qualify for the general election ballot. Nicknames are acceptable.

Titles denoting occupations, including military rank, positions on issues, political affiliation, symbols, or anything intentionally designed to mislead voters are not acceptable.

party preference information:

For a partisan office, you may choose to state a political party that you personally prefer.

A preference does not imply that you have been nominated or endorsed by the party, or that the party approves of or associates with you.

If you choose to state a party preference, enter the name of the party (limited to 16 characters). The first letter of the party preference will be capitalized (e.g., Democratic). If you want to use initials, separate each letter with a period (e.g., G.O.P.). If you qualify to appear on the ballot, your party preference will
